

Calling All 6th-12th Grade Artists

Do you have artistic talent?

The City of Brooklyn Center is updating its plan for the future. This is a document that lays out the vision, goals, and policies that will carry the City forward over the next 20 years. We want to know how young people living in the community today want to see their community in 2040.

Imagine it is 2040, what is Brooklyn Center like? What kind of community do you want it to be? What are its values? What do you love about it? What makes it better than today? What does it mean to be a member of this community in 2040? These are the questions we want you to answer through art.
